Briefly: Gender

In this VSLM (Very Small Language Model) called website, we use the german masculine form of address. Unfortunately, search engines disadvantage other spellings. In the PDF appendices, however, we use the colon spelling because it is shorter. It is also a normal linguistic development. Who still says today: "Goode creätüre, lat me blisse-make in-with thy leof face, at midday in the arbour, with my lyre." Exactly. Talent and lack of talent are equally distributed. And in this crew, smart women and men are just as welcome as smart men and women. At the same time, we would like to distance ourselves from polarising and trivial world views: the world is neither black nor white, nor black and white.

If you would like to become part of the crew, let us know how you can enrich and advance this bold endeavour and yourself. Feel free to include your personal commitments, from accordion athletics to Led Zeppelin zooming. And, of course, if so, the lyre as well.
